

WORKING together

Texas Midwest Community Network was founded in 1994, to promote a regional approach in providing awareness and resources for its members to achieve economic development and community growth.

Programs and activities sponsored by TMCN are designed to accomplish this goal by providing a platform for community leaders to share ideas to engage and inspire networking opportunities.

NETWORKING & resources

One membership meeting and six networking luncheons are held throughout the year at various locations in the region. Our day long annual conference is held in October with education tracts for city officials, economic development professionals, chamber representatives, and high school students. Additionally, workshops and seminars are held on issues of significance to our members.

A periodic newsletter brings members timely resources including available grant opportunities, statewide seminars, and newsworthy articles from our partners.

LEGISLATIVE awareness

During the legislative sessions, TMCN organizes a Texas Midwest Day at the capital. Member community leaders travel to Austin to meet with State Agencies. Various programs are available to Texas cities gaining guidance in solving local issues.

On off Legislative years, TMCN hosts a lawmakers luncheon providing one-on-one, direct access to the lawmakers who serve the TMCN region.

LEADERSHIP tmcn

High school students are paired with a community leader. Together, they examine their current community commitment. Learning the importance of creating value with others, and that there is a difference between being present and being passionate. Engaged, committed individuals are proven to be more productive, more efficient, and deliver a higher level of service. They move their organizations and communities forward.

COMMUNITY awards

The Community of Achievement and All-Star Community Awards were developed as a way to encourage member communities in the region to be better prepared for future growth and economic development. Key criteria areas for these include vision, pride, youth involvement, connectivity, and assessment

MARKETING opportunities

TMCN publishes an annual Texas Midwest Guide, which showcases our member communities with a keen focus on bringing economic growth and sustain ability to the region through tourism. The guide offers very low rates, statewide distribution, and an online digital format with links to local accommodations, dining, events, visitor sites, and advertisers.
